EDWIN D. MORGAN, Governor of New York,

To John C. Fremont.

Thy error, Fremont, simply was to act A plain man's part, without the statesman's inct. And, taking counsel but of common sense, To strike at cause as well as consequence. So take thou courage !God has spoken through thee Irrevocable, the mighty words, Be Free! The land shakes with them, and the slave's dull car Turns from the rice field stealthily to hear. Who would recall them now must first arrest The winds that blow down from the free Northwest, Ruffling the gulf ; or like a scroll, roll back The Mississippi to his upper springs. Such words fulfil their prophecy, and lack But the full time to harden into things, -Boston Transcript.

> From facts ascertained here it appears that on Wednesday Gen. Fremont released Col. Blah from arrest, using language in the order tanta mount to a defiance of the Colonel to present his charges formally. On Toursday, Col. Blair presented charges formally against Gen. Fremont, in response to the defiance. Thereupon Gen. Fremont immediately arrested Col. Blair and sent him to Jefferson Barracks. On Friday night the telegraph was allowed to communicate the fact that Blair had been freed from arrest the previous Wednesday, but the offensive paragraph in the order of release was suppressed, and the fact of Col. Blair's second arrest withheld. The army regulations allow no officers to be arrested for a longer period than eight days without charges being preferred. Gen. Fremont disregarded the regulations in the case of Col. Blair. After this violation of the regulations, a second arrest for the same cause and without charges has attracted attention and caused remarks. Gen. Scott to-day ordered the unconditional release of Col. Blair.

LABRES GARRES EGOTS.

A little glove stirs up my hearing tides stir up the ocean, A snow-white muslin, when it fits, makes many a curious notion
All sorts of lady fixing thrill my feelings, as they'd order,
But little female gaiter beets are death and nothing shorer!

And just to put you on your guard, i'll give you, short and brief, A small hotel experience Which fitted my heart with grief; fast summer, at the Pavilion Hotel, I stopped a week or more, And marked two "boot-ces" every morn Before my neighbor's door; Two boots with patent feather tips, Two boots which seemed to say, " An angel trots around in us," They stole my heart away; And often in my sightly dreams They swept before my face, A lady growing out of them As flowers grow from a vase. But ah! one morn I saw a sight Which struck me like a stone, Some other name was on the book These boots were not alone! A great tall pair of other boots Was standing by their side, And off they walked one afternoon And with them walked-a bride,

Those Gaiter Boots came from J. C. PAGE.

A moment's reflection ought to convince a sensible man of the folly and danger of constantly dosing with Cathartic Medicines. The practice is pernicious and suicidal. An experience of forty years has taught me that the constantly increasing cyils of indigestion are fearfully agreeved by the too free use of Cathartics. The American people are fast becoming a nation of dysperties by their artificial modes of life. Prastic Cathartics increase the irritability, and prostrate the strength of the discrete organs.
